

10 Things You (and your Clients) Need to Know About Carbon....Right Now!

“Your company needs to beat competitors in two areas: reducing exposure to climate related risks and finding businesses opportunities within those risks.”

Harvard Business Review
Jonathan Lash and Fred Wellington

1. Carbon is complicated
2. Its all about energy
3. A price on carbon and an emissions trading scheme is coming
4. Be smart by reducing your energy emissions now
5. For SMEs, it is all about supply chain pressure
6. The Government will apply pressure to their supply chain too
7. First movers will gain a strategic advantage
8. Carbon can be a saving not a cost
9. Returns can be immediate
10. Doing nothing will cost more in the future than doing something now

About Us

At Walker Wayland Climate Change, we understand that climate change poses challenges and opportunities for individuals, governments, organisations and businesses alike.

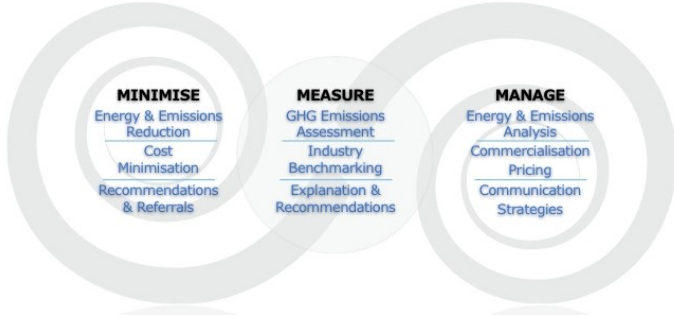

In particular, identification, measurement and reporting of risks associated with climate change are becoming commonplace for businesses as governments introduce specific policies to address climate change.

Corporate Social Responsibility

Increasingly, environmental and socially sustainable practices are becoming an every day aspect of doing business.

Our corporate and social responsibility objectives are to reduce the environmental impact of the firm's activities and continue its community support partnerships as a means of contributing back to society.

Through our partnership with Pangolin Associates we offer solutions to your carbon management needs that are second to none across Australia.

These include:

- Greenhouse gas emissions assessments.
- Carbon risk and opportunities analysis.
- Education services for management and staff.
- Carbon commercialisation planning.
- Energy audits.

We tailor our three step strategy to carbon management to suit the specific, individual needs of each business.
